How to navigate the post office.

Know what you want before you go in. And that was my first mistake.

I had 2 fabric bundles to mail and one regular envelope. The envelope was easy.

The bundles were difficult. Neither would fit into the large mailing envelopes, so I had to resort to boxes. From the display, I chose a white one, and because there were no more of those, I picked a brown one. And two address stickers.

When I got to the counter, the conversation went like this:

"You want to send this express not priority? That means it will get there tomorrow, for about $15," he said, indicating one of the boxes-I assumed the brown one.

Startled, I said, "No."

"Well then you need that one over there," he said, pointing to some white mailers leaning against the window behind the door. So I grabbed one of those and started taking the fabric out the brown box.

"No," the post guy said, "the brown box is ground. You don't want to send it ground? I thought you didn't want to send this one" indicating the white box "express."

Oh. Now I noticed the difference between the 2 white mailers.

"What's cheaper?" Meaning the difference between white & brown, not the white & white (express and priority).

"Well, you have to buy that box. This box" indicating the white one "is free." Not exactly the info I was wanting, but more info than I had about a minute ago.

Now, if you are having trouble following which box is which, get in line. I'd only been awake for about an hour, maybe, but this whole conversation with the post guy was not making much sense. But I now started scrutinizing the white boxes more carefully & discovered that the first one I had chosen was "express" and the other white one was just "priority." If this were the supermarket, companies would get in trouble for deceptive advertising if they put the same product in lookalike containers and charged different prices. But this is the post office and they expect you to automatically know the difference between a brown box, a white box and a white box.

And I should point out, that nothing is labeled or priced on the displays. Hence my warning at the beginning-know what you want before you go in.

So now we're back to brown boxes vs white boxes. Except, there was only one white box leaning against the window.

So I ask again, "What is cheaper? The white box or the brown?"

"Do you want to send it ground or priority?"

Sigh.

"What's cheaper?"

"Well, you have to pay for the box. And your label is a priority label. Do you want to send it priority?" Okay. Not entirely helpful and I'm thinking that I have already had this conversation, but by now I'm not so sure. So I decide to go with what I've always done. White. But not express.

"So do you have any more of these white boxes?" I asked, pointing to the priority box. Five minutes later and a trip to the back of the post office, he had more boxes.

So I start putting the bundles into the boxes, trying to keep track of which bundle was in which. But in the process of folding, stuffing & taping (post guy was taping) I lost track. So we had to untape to make sure the Nebraska bundle didn't go to Ohio.

After this summer, with all of the license plates that I mailed, I thought I had mastered the post office. Now I'm not so sure. And Christmas is coming. I'm thinking gift cards and regular envelopes that only need 1 stamp.

If you want to do the whole quilt, we have the flannel cut for the project. If you just want to make one block, we have individual patterns kitted. Kits are limited right now, and we need to get a few more patterns in. If you are interested, and we sell out, just let us know. We have enough flannel to make a few more kits.

Kits for the entire project (minus binding & backing) are $93. Individual patterns, kitted with fabric, are $20.

Machine Applied Binding

Mon. Nov. 9 1-3 OR Nov. 22 1-3 $20

Barb Boyer

This style of binding uses cording to help keep the binding straight & true. Bring a small quilt, your binding and your sewing machine-check the supply list to make sure you have the right tools (cording, the correct foot, binding cut at the correct width). Putting binding on by machine cuts your time more than in half-and by using cording, you can have a perfectly applied binding with no messy "oops" where your stitching just didn't quite catch the binding on the back side.

HAND APPLIQUE CLUB

This is a get-together & stitch class. Many of us are trying hand applique these days-- patterns are calling for a lot more applique. The club is designed for quilters who already do some hand applique, but beginners are welcome as well. We will share techniques, suggest patterns, talk about threads and, in general, just stitch. A little quiet time away from the distractions of home is what we need to get our projects done.

HAND EMBROIDERY CLUB

If you want to learn to hand embroider or just brush up your technique, join us on the second Saturday of the month from 10 to noon. We provide free vintage patterns, and this year we will have free patterns of girls with hats, that you can embroider, embellish and color. Each month Kathy Sconce shows us a new stitch to try, plus, she guides us through thread choices, how to knot, fabrics to use, and tracing techniques.

Knit Pickin' Club

This is another get-together class to sit & knit, work on our projects, share information and get some help. We will share techniques, suggest patterns, but mainly we'll sit & knit (or pick).

Toad Toters

On full moon days (as noted in the calendar) you will get 20% off all purchases (not otherwise discounted) that you can fit in your bag. You must bring your bag to participate. Full Moon Days: September 27; October 27; November 25; December 25 (I'll figure something out. I'm not coming in on Christmas).

Discount Policy

We will honor only one discount -- whichever is largest. You can't combine a 10% with a 25% discount to get a 35% discount. On this we can't be bribed.

Color of the Month

September orange/yellow; October green; November flannels; December red.

Join the fun and come feel the difference of quality fabrics.

Happy quilting!
