QUILT SHOP

The Eagle Has Landed!

We got one bolt of about 8 yards of the Wilmington Eagle Panel, from the collection Winter Whisper. That's it folks. The panel is 3/4 yard, which means there were 10 panels on the bolt. We cut 7 panels & put them into a package, cost is $62. I also have the remaining 3 panels set aside (see next paragraph).

I also have 10 more panels shipping tomorrow, should arrive early next week. If you're doing the math, that means I have 2 complete kits available, plus 6 panels. I also have a line on a couple more panels, which means I may have one more complete kit.

Now, if you go to Quiltshops.com, Fabric Shack in Waynesville, OH, has some panels, but I have not been able to reach them. I have reached out to our local shops in the area, and have not found any panels. Equilter.com does not have the panel. You may try calling stores in Wyoming, Montana & Colorado to see if they have it.

There are other panels from Wilmington that could work, including the deer, a magpie and a rabbit. Quiltshops.com will show you the stores that carry those. All you need to do on that site is type in Winter Whisper in the search bar. I would call the shop and ask how many panels they have and go from there.

Here's the deal: The 2 kits that I can guarantee will be sold on a first come/first served basis. I will accept an order over the phone. Here's the catch: I will only sell the kits to a registered student. Class fee is $25. Normally, I wouldn't be picky about this, but because the fabric is in short supply, I want the students to have first access.

If I can find a 7th panel to complete the 3rd kit, I will let you know. If I can't find one, then I will sell the panels individually.

Join the fun and come feel the difference of quality fabrics.

Happy quilting!

Sincerely,

Barbara Boyer
