December 24, 2019

Becca came in the house with a smirk on her face.

"What do you call an elf who sings? A Wrapper! How do sheep say "Merry Christmas?" Fleece Navidad! What do angry..."

"Becca, whoa, wait a minute." She cocked her head at me, opened her mouth and said,

"...mice send each other in December? Cross mouse cards!" She started laughing until she reversed sneezed. And then started laughing all over again.

"Becca, you're supposed to let me try to guess the answer before you deliver the punch line. And where did you find these really bad jokes...Ah...never mind. The internet. You must have gotten service back in your dog house.

How did you do that? I still don't have wifi in the house...." But Becca wasn't listening to me, fortunately. I really didn't want to know the answer to that.

"What comes at the end of Christmas Day? The letter Y!" She started snorting again.

"Wait a minute," I said. "You've been talking to Dale...but how did you get his phone...I don't want to know. I just don't want to know."

Becca and Cassidy got their Christmas present early this morning, and she has been feasting on soup bones all day. It's not exactly cat nip for dogs, but I think she sucks in so much air that it forms bubbles and goes straight to her head.

"The Brits are really weird," she said coming off the floor after her latest giggling burst. "They don't say Merry Christmas, they say Happy Christmas. And they have these toys called Christmas Crackers which you're supposed to pull at both ends and it makes a loud pop, like a firecracker, only it's not the 4th of July it's Christmas. Do the Brits celebrate the 4th of July? They could save some of these for pulling. And there is a prize in the middle and jokes and..."

"Becca," I interrupted. "You've been watching Harry Potter movies, haven't you." She looked a little sheepish. "And, no the Brits don't celebrate the 4th of July."

"Why not? It's warmer in July than at Christmas." She's got a point, but I didn't want to get into the whole revolutionary war thing with her. She really likes the Harry Potter movies, the Queen of course, and A Christmas Carol. Better to distract her then disillusion her.

"Did you know that at Christmas time, the British like to go to Pantomimes or Pantos, which are slap stick comedies for the whole family. They take a fairy tale, like Cinderella, but add other characters, like villains or bears."

"Or cats? Cats make great villains," she said.

I cautiously agreed and told her about the Panto I saw in London. It was Cinderella and had a bear in it. The mean stepfather and the two stepsisters were going to the ball and their car broke down. As dad was trying to fix the tire, a bear came out of the woods. The audience, mainly the kids, screamed, "There's a bear behind you!" And of course, when dad looked around, the bear just followed around behind him, so dad never saw anything. He'd look at the audience and ask them what was wrong, and they'd start screaming "Look behind you." Finally dad & bear would find each other, scare each other and one of the two would run off.

"What do you call people who are afraid of Santa Claus?," Becca said, clearly not distracted. Claustrophobic! What did Adam say on the day before Christmas? It's Christmas, Eve!" A joke that clearly depends upon comma placement.

"Becca!" I said. "Enough with the bad jokes. Did you know that the British say Father Christmas and not Santa Claus or that they hang their stockings on the bedposts and not the fireplace?"

"Who cares," she said, "and what's a bedpost?" But she didn't give me time to answer because she said, "Why does Santa have three gardens? So he can ho, ho, ho!"

"Okay, that's enough. I think you've been lapping into the rum punch. It's time to watch White Christmas with Bing Crosby and Danny Kaye, Rosemary Clooney and Vera Allen. You like that movie. Go get Cassidy and you two can curl up on the dog bed."

Becca ran off to find Cassidy and I got the movie ready.

I hope your Christmas Eve and Christmas day are happy and merry. That your stockings are filled wherever you hang them, and St. Nick comes down your chimney.

"Wait wait," said Becca, running back in with Cassidy in tow. "How did Mrs. Claus tell Santa the weather? It looks like rain, dear!"

"Becca!"

"What happened to the thief who stole an advent calendar? He got 25 days!"

Merry Christmas!

Block of the Month First Sat of month 10:30-11:15 FREE Barb Boyer

Join at any time. You get a free fat quarter if you come to class with the previous month's completed block. This year the challenge is to use polka dot fabric in each block. The quilt will be whimsical, and will lend itself to bright colors, stripes, stars, and dots. To start you off we will give you a fat quarter that you must use in your blocks (at least in some of them). But...if you don't like the fat quarter or dots, you can choose any color scheme you like.

Dresden Plate, English Paper Piecing last Monday of each month, 2-4 Barb Boyer $20 (one time fee)

We will teach the basics of English Paper Piecing, the simple & easy way to hand piece. English paper piecing dates back to the early 1800s. It is a hand sewing method that uses paper templates to help sew complex angles together, like hexagons. Any number of different designs can be made, including Dresden Plate This is the pattern we're doing this year.

Hand Embroidery Club 2nd Sat. of the month, 10-noon FREE Kathy Sconce

If you want to learn to hand embroider or just brush up your technique, join us on the second Saturday of the month from 10 to noon. You can work on your own projects or you can join the project we are doing. We are still doing the Gardner's Alphabet Quilt Block of the Month by Crabapple Hill. We will explore a variety of embroidery stitches for each block each block (2 letters per month), plus we will learn how to color with regular crayons to enhance the blocks. Each month Kathy Sconce shows us a new stitch to try, plus, she guides us through thread choices, how to knot, fabrics to use, and tracing techniques. We are also looking at new patterns, for those you do not want to do the Alphabet quilt or who have finished those blocks.

Knit Pickers' Club 2nd and 4th Wed of each month, 3-7 Carol Moler

We are changing up the Knit Pickers' Club. We're going to knit 2 days a month every second and fourth Wednesday, and we'll start earlier in the day at 3. For those of you who work, we'll still be knitting >till 7. The Club is open to all skill levels. We want to share what we've learned, find new patterns, and simply just sit and knit. We work on some felting projects, fingerless mittens, mittens, and socks. And we're experimenting with group projects meaning we will demonstrate a particular project (fingerless mitts, cables, stranded work, charts) and then everyone does the same pattern. Each month (or so) we will switch to a new project.

Jelly Roll Race Quilt Mon Jan 20, 10:30-4 $25 (The second of our precut quilt series)

On your mark, get set, SEW! Okay, you don't have to race, but this is another class where you can get the inside of the quilt finished in a day. (Some people can do it in an hour. I looked it up.) All you need is 42 2½" strips. We have Jelly Rolls, Tonga Treats and Bali Pops if you don't want to cut your own strips. If you do want to cut your own strips, you can use the AccuCutter and your scraps. Skills learned include how to sew straight (again, I'm not joking), piecing on the diagonal (without drawing your lines) and being brave to let the colors fall where they may. This is another quilt that is perfect for that project that needs to be done yesterday.

No Math Flying Geese Quilt $25 Barb Boyer Jan 25, 10:30-4 (The first of our "working with rulers" class)

Master the No Math Flying Goose ruler! There are many rulers to help make accurate flying geese, but this is my favorite. It has 12 different sizes of geese to choose from. You can make any size you want. The sample shown uses the largest flying geese, which makes a bed size quilt sew up very quickly.

This class is great for beginners and all levels of appliquers. Don't let hand applique frustrate you. It's really easy and relaxing!
